

GOVERNOR SMALL DEFENDS HIS ACTION

EXECUTIVE GIVES HIS REASON FOR CUTTING APPROPRIATION BILL

Assails Attorney General Brundage in a Statement Addressed "To the People of Illinois"—Says That Brundage Tried to Discredit Him With the Dry Element

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 4.—Governor Len Small in a statement addressed "To the People of Illinois," strongly defended his action in cutting the appropriations of the fifty second general assembly approximately $7,000,000 and thereby, as he explained, reduced the state tax rate.

The statement, he declared, was issued to answer "several inspired attacks on the governor because of his efforts to protect the men and women who are paying the taxes to support our government."

The governor assailed Edward J. Brundage, attorney general, as the "mouthpiece for the millionaire tax dodgers and criminal profiteers who is now attacking me because I would not condone his efforts to raid the treasury of Illinois and permit him to take from the pockets of state taxpayers $689,600 to assist him in building up a political machine."

The attorney general, the statement said, had asked the legislature for $1,505,700 to run his office, a figure, it was asserted, almost five times the amount of money that the attorney general of all the five great states surrounding Illinois received.

Mr. Brundage's office, the statement declared, was given $616,000 which, it was asserted, was ample for the work of his office.

Makes Accusations

The governor then accused Mr. Brundage of attempting to arouse against him the opposition of the "dry" whom he would have believed that I have much enforcement of the prohibition law enforcement act impossible because I vetoed $50,000 appropriated to him for the enforcement of that act."

The statement asserted that during the last biennium Mr. Brundage spent $100,000 given him for the enforcement of the search and seizure act, but that there are still over one hundred illicit liquor establishments running wide open within two miles of his own office and he has, in a published statement, said that he would not enforce the search and seizure act unless formal complaint was made to him."

Governor Small charged that the $100,000 appropriated for the enforcement of this act had been used for political attacks who were put on the payroll of the attorney general as prohibition enforcement officers.

The statement also asserted that the 192 state's attorneys, 102 sheriffs and several thousand deputies in the state were fully competent to enforce the prohibition laws without further burden to taxpayers and that the sum left for the attorney general was fully enough to enable him to discharge the duties of his office.

The text of the statement follows:

The public press of Friday and Saturday contained several inspired attacks upon the Governor of Illinois because in his efforts to protect the men and women who are paying the taxes to support our government, he cut the appropriations of the fifty-second general assembly approximately $7,000,000, thereby reducing the state tax rate.

It is the same attack, inspired by the same motives which has been made against this administration since I announced in my campaign pledges and my inaugural message, that "I would do all within my power to secure a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent."

The forces of predatory wealth, represented by the tax-dodging millionaires are fighting this administration because it has insisted, and still insists that the millionaire owner of hidden wealth, must bear his fair burden of taxation along with the man and woman who owns the small farm or the small home.

Refers to Brundage.

Now, Edward J. Brundage, Attorney General of Illinois, backed by the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Daily News, long time recognized mouthpieces for the millionaire tax dodgers and the criminal profiteers, attack me because I would not condone his efforts to raid the treasury of Illinois and permit him to take from the pockets of state taxpayers $689,600 to be used, not for the welfare of the general public and the state at large, but to assist him in building up a powerful, personal, political machine.

It is to Mr. Brundage's attack upon me, at this time to respond. I have no personal quarrel with Mr. Brundage. His personal political ambitions are of no concern to me, further than the fact

NEW YORK CITY STAGED BIG WET PARADE MONDAY

Thousands Marched Up Fifth Avenue in Broiling Sun

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 4.—A great many New Yorkers let the world know today that they bear no love for the eighteenth amendment. Several thousand of them raised a terrible thirst tramping up Fifth Avenue in an anti-prohibition demonstration and others packed the sidewalks for more than two miles to cheer them.

It was called a wet parade and it was wet—soaking wet—with perspiration. The afternoon was one of the hottest of the year.

Mayor Hylan smiled and sweated in the seat of honor in the reviewing stand at Madison Square. Every now and then somebody would loudly inquire if his honor didn't long for a schooner of lager on such a hot day.

Not a few women and children participated in the parade. They were so outnumbered by the masculine marchers, however, that it seemed manifest that the male of the species is the more thirsty than his mate. Everybody in the line had an American flag and many more miniature liquor bottles appropriately inscribed and pinned to their lapels.

There were more than 300 organizations in line about one hundred of them Italians. Bands played drinking songs and songs dedicated to the absence of drinks.

Banners by the hundreds mingled the serious sentiments of the thirsty with the lighter view of people on the water wagon.

These placards in a manner of speaking, put the kick in the parade. One placard read: "prohibition took the sunshine from our homes and put the moonshine in." Another said: "Russia went dry in 1919 and mad in 1921. How rational do you feel yourselves?"

The serious signs asked everybody to notice what alcoholic ardidity had done to the American merchant marine.

Quoted the Bible

They suggested bible reading as a means of learning who made wine from water that the wedding feast might be merry, and the biblical line "use a little wine for thy stomach's sake," was also quoted. There were pictures of the last supper and of the Goddess of Liberty, shorn of her proud-like pose by shackles that bound her arms together.

Some banners urged people to take the parade and the sentiment it represented with seriousness, explaining that the eighteenth amendment repealed and the Volstead act liberalized, and that they were going to fight for that cause.

When the parade ended participants and spectators, hot and dry throated, poured into every available soda fountain to quench their collective thirsts with soft drinks.

ZIONISTS WOULD SPEND $5,000,000

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 4.—Resolutions affecting the development of Palestine and involving an expenditure of five millions, were adopted by the Palestine Development League at its closing sessions today.

The league's membership is composed of the minority group of the Zionist organization of America.

The development program called for a wholesale co-operation, building and loan association, a farmers fund and construction co-operation.

Half the amount needed to finance the program was subscribed today when Julian W. Mack of Chicago, announced that the sum would have to be raised within a short time.

Judge Brandeis, calling attention to the accomplishments of the league also stated that under its leadership more than five hundred thousand Jews in the United States had signed a petition requesting that Great Britain become the mandatory power in Palestine.

TRIBUTE PAID TO AMERICAN BOYS BY PRESIDENT

Acts as Sponsor for Launching of Row Boat Built by Boy

(By The Associated Press)
HARTMAN, N. J., July 4.—Acting as sponsor today of a row boat made by a nine year old boy, President Harding delivered a Fourth of July oration of a single sentence in tribute to the ingenuity and aspirations of American boyhood.

The diminutive craft which inspired the president's toast was the Karitan, nine feet over all, conceived and built by Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Jr., son of the senator at whose home here Mr. and Mrs. Harding are guests. The bank of an artificial lake forming a hazard across a golf course of the Hartman Valley Country Club was the scene of the launching.

Had she been the largest ocean liner the vessel could scarcely have taken the water with a greater show of ceremony. Specially constructed ways whose upper end rested on a soap box guided her down the bank. As she was loosed to begin her adventurous career the president broke a bottle of mineral water across her bows and said:

President's Tribute

"As a tribute to American boyhood, who build castles in the air, who build boats and whose achievements in the future will build this country, I christen this boat, the handwork of Joe Frelinghuysen, the Karitan."

Entering thoroughly into the spirit which prompted Joe and his young friends to plan the ceremony, Mr. Harding spoke his tribute solemnly and applauded, as the boat splashed into the water with her builder and master sitting proudly amidship.

Manifestly the president enjoyed the launching more than any other event on his Fourth of July program, the previously he had been presented with a silver cup by the Country Club and later was the central figure at a luncheon and public reception at the Frelinghuysen house.

For more than two hours the president and Mrs. Harding stood beneath a big maple on the lawn shaking hands and exchanging greetings with those who filled past.

Early tomorrow Mr. Harding will leave by train for Washington.

COLONEL HARVEY IS STILL TALKING OVER IN DEAR 'OL LUNNON

Lord Leo Refers to the Muzzle of Diplomacy—So Far as Colonel Harvey is Concerned the Muzzle Must Have Been Lost—Is Telling All About It—Too Many Comparisons

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, July 4.—Diplomatic representatives of more than thirty foreign governments were guests tonight at the annual Independence Day dinner of the American Society of London. Ambassador Harvey was the guest of honor.

Lord Leo of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty, toasting the guest, referred to Mr. Harvey as "a foreign envoy to whom the muzzle of diplomacy had not been obtrusive." Therefore, he said, both Britain and America could expect from him "open and frank comment upon Anglo-American relations."

Referring in his reply to the revolt of the American colonies, Ambassador Harvey declared:

"Whether the territory comprising the United States could have been retained, is wholly speculative. But one fact is certain—if George the Third had issued a proclamation even approximating in eloquent sincerity and appealing force that uttered the other day by George V, in his faithful endeavor to reconcile a nation, there would have been no ringing of bells in Philadelphia 145 years this night, nor for many years thereafter."

Remove Misapprehensions

Ambassador Harvey declared that the mutual helpfulness which all desired could not be realized until two grave misapprehensions had been removed, one of which pervaded Europe respecting the United States and the other permeating the United States as to Europe.

"The two combined appear to constitute the chief barrier to full and effective play of co-operation based upon confidence and understanding," said the ambassador. "I find in Europe the common impression that the United States alone among the nations is today a land of milk and honey whose people not only are universally prosperous, but are rich beyond the traditional dream of avarice. You have only to supplement the fancy with a suspicion which I find not wholly lacking, that all this opulence and this happiness are direct results of the great war, to account for the wholly natural sense of resentment."

"What are the facts? Did the United States really profit from the war to such a degree as to make the lives she sacrificed seem to the cynical and sordid mind relatively insignificant?"

Ambassador Harvey proceeded to cite the tremendously increased national debt, the congressional appropriations for 1920 and heavy income taxation. He added:

Too Many Comparisons

"In dollars, the cost to America of her participation in the war, when finally computed, will fall not so very far short of the entire indemnity upon Germany. I make no comparisons. There has been too much of that already. Surely no good can come now, when we all are striving to get together in common purpose for the common weal from disputing over the relative sizes of the contributions to the great cause."

Mr. Harvey referred to the American relief work during and following the war which he said "cannot fail to live forever as one of the finest achievements of history."

"The second misapprehension to which I referred is that my own countrymen who have been led to doubt that the peoples of Europe have been doing the utmost for themselves before seeking help," the ambassador continued.

"I have to confess that before I left home I held somewhat to that surmise myself. I do so no longer. During the past two months I have been privileged to talk freely and frankly with representatives of every stricken state in Europe and I have not heard one complaining word nor received a single request for beneficence. It is not charity, but opportunity, they crave, and all that they seek, x x x"

BETHLEHEM STEEL COMPANY MAKES CUT IN PRICES BY IRISH LEADERS

Proposed Peace Plan Discussed With View of Opening Negotiations for Peace

(By The Associated Press)
BETHLEHEM, Pa., July 4.—The Bethlehem Steel company today announced further reductions in the price of steel, effective tomorrow.

President E. G. Grace, of the company, in making the announcement said that "present manufacturing costs do not warrant these reductions, but as a company desirous to contribute even more than its full share to re-establish conditions in the steel trade on what might be regarded as a normal basis."

The company recently announced a 15 percent reduction in wages, effective on July 16.

New Price Schedule

The new price schedule showed the following changes:

Bars, from $2.10 to $1.90; structural shapes, from $2.20 to $2.00; plates from $2.20 to $2.00; sheet bar, from $3.50 to $3.25; slabs from $3.80 to $3.50; blue nealed sheets from $2.55 to $2.35; black sheets from $3.75 to $3.50; galvanized sheets from $4.75 to $4.50; tinplate from $6.25 to $5.75; skip from $2.20 to $2.00.

"The new prices represent a reduction of $4 a ton on bars, structural shapes, plates, skelp, billets, sheet bar slabs and blue nealed sheets, $5 a ton on black and galvanized sheets, $10 per ton on tinplate," said President Grace. He explained that steel prices had not been reduced to pre-war levels because of increased freight rates and costs of material and labor.

MAY VISIT GRAVE OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Paris, July 4.—The grave of the unknown soldier under the Arc of Triumphant today was a shrine to which Americans, individually and in delegations brought flags and flowers in observance of Independence Day. Twenty-five American flags were placed on the tomb.

American Rotarians who are visiting Paris went to the battlefield at Chateau Thierry. All French cities with past or present associations with Americans hoisted the stars and stripes and celebrated the national holiday.

The college was founded in 1873. In the last year there were 697 students. The Rockefeller gift is the largest single one ever made to the institution although several years ago a permanent endowment fund of one million dollars was raised.

STORMS INJURE ILLINOIS CROPS

Peoria, Ill., July 4.—Oats and wheat crops were badly damaged by a wind and rain storm which swept the eastern bank of the Illinois river from Springfield to points north of Peoria late this afternoon.

AMERICAN FLAGS FLOAT OVER THE CITY OF BERLIN

No Official Text of Peace Resolution Has Been Received

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, July 4.—American flags flew over Berlin today for the first time since the American declaration of war but the American Mission and the German foreign office have not been formally notified that congress has concluded peace.

The newspapers in the absence of the text of the peace resolution confine their comment to the hope that "there will be a speedy resumption of peace time commercial relations."

Opinion in the German foreign office is unofficially summed up, as follows:

"An intolerable situation is ended, but we do not know what to expect or what the peace conditions will be—whether the United States will subscribe to the Versailles treaty in toto or at all."

The Stars and Stripes floated from the American Chamber of Commerce as well as from a few private dwellings.

JAPANESE SPEAKER SAYS HIS COUNTRY READY TO CONFER

Would Welcome Conference For Limitation of Armaments

(By The Associated Press)
TOKIO, July 4.—Yukio Ozaki, former minister of justice, in the conclusion of a ten thousand mile campaign of the empire in behalf of limitation of armaments in Japan's political history, declared his conviction today that if the United States government proposed a conference on the limitation of armaments it would meet with an eager response throughout Japan.

M. Ozaki whose achievements have made him the foremost Japanese liberal added:

"I should like to convey this message to the people of the United States. If the American president proposes this international conference it will surely be the beginning of a solution of all the diplomatic questions between Japan and the United States."

KEEPING CHILDREN

Every state now has a compulsory day school attendance law, according to information recently furnished by the United States department of labor thru the Children's Bureau. The bureau has just completed an analysis of education laws affecting child labor, the result of which are published in a chart entitled "State Compulsory School Standards Affecting the Employment of Minors."

In five states attendance is required until 18 years of age. In two of these in certain districts only; in 8 until 17; and in 32 until 16. One state requires attendance until 15, six others and the District of Columbia until 14, and one state requires attendance until the age of 12 years, but applies to females only.

Unfortunately, the exemptions in the majority of States are so numerous that they greatly limit the application of the law. The most common exemptions are for employment, or upon completion of a specified school grade. Four states specifically exempt for work in agricultural pursuits, 3 with no age provision. The laws of 14 other states contain loosely worded provisions exempting a child at any age, which might be used to cover absence for farm work as well as for many other purposes. Several states exempt a child whose services are necessary for the support of himself or others, without any age or educational provision.

The amount of attendance required is still unsatisfactory in many states, several demanding only 12, 16 or 20 weeks in a year.

Even in states where city children must attend for 8 or 9 months, the amount of attendance required in rural school districts is sometimes considerably less.

WHAT IS "NEWS"

Unfolding a copy of the New York Times in his pulpit on June 19, Rev. John Roach Straton, of New York, preached a sermon on the wickedness and desperate state of the world as revealed by the headlines of news and other matter, which he read aloud with comment. At the conclusion Mr. Straton intimated that the appalling picture would have been blacker still if he had taken it from a less respectable newspaper, and went on to say: "I have not exaggerated the matter at all. I have quoted literally all the way through the accounts of reeking immoralities and festering sins as reported in a single issue, as all the news that was fit to print for that day. Well, God be praised that we were not given the news that was not fit to print for that day!"

Mr. Straton thinks his picture was not exaggerated, yet it was exaggeration of the most unreflecting and excessive type. The day's "news" does not pretend to be a picture of more than a very small part of the world of men and women and events; it is not concerned with the ordinary activities of the great multitude but rather with the startling exceptions. In its editorial comment the Times calls Mr. Straton's attention to an important point which he overlooked and which too many pessimistic readers of newspapers overlook. Says the Times: "A newspaper is a selection from life, an anthology of the important, interesting, human. The daily habit and routine are not there. Men and women go forth to their work till evening. The quiet continual, fruitful activities, the average flow and tempo of existence, are not set down. The reader doesn't need to be told of the customary. The daily picture is of multifarious life, good, bad and mixed, full of the struggles, the misadventures, the failures, the conspicuous good and bad deeds. The newspaper gives a vivid section, not the whole, of course."

HISTORY OF OUR NEW WATER SUPPLY

By CARL E. BLACK

No doubt you all regard this as one of the most important events in the history of our little city. I assure you that few things could give me greater pleasure than to recite to you today something of the story of the water supply project. It is still difficult to realize that the thing is an actual accomplishment, and that finally after years of effort, Jacksonville has a water supply of which it can be justly proud.

For the first time Jacksonville is independent on the water question. Not that I would have you think that the whole question is finally solved, for as yet many of our citizens are not supplied with this beautiful pure water, and that part of the question yet remains to be solved. I trust, however, that at no distant day every citizen of Jacksonville will have pure water for his every purpose.

We still have one among us who was a member of the first citizens committee which brought out the necessary votes to carry the election which authorized the bonds for the original project—namely S. W. Nichols.

I would pray your indulgence for a few moments, until I read a list of names of those departed citizens who were always conspicuous in their efforts to solve the water question. This list does not by any means supply all the names but these names frequently appear in the public press; frequently contributed articles to the newspapers and otherwise advocated an improvement and increase of our water supply. It is only proper and fitting on this occasion of thanksgiving that we should pay our respects to those who preceded us in this struggle for water. The list I would read you is as follows:

J. O. King, Elizer Wolcott, Irving Dunlap, Wm. Ratkin, R. C. Crampton, D. W. Fairbank, Dr. John T. Cassel, Felix G. Farrell, W. C. Carter, P. G. Gillett, D. C. Fry, Dr. H. F. Carriel, Dr. David Prince, Dr. Andrew McFarland, W. E. Capps, J. B. Turner, Dr. G. W. Black, Dr. J. P. Willard, Dr. W. F. Short.

In the winter of 1917 there was the unusual drouth and things again looked serious for Jacksonville. There was the usual shutting off of the schools, the railroads and otherwise curtailment of the use of water, and in spite of these things we were facing a complete water famine. At this juncture on the 14th day of February 1917, fifty citizens signed a call for a mass meeting, to be held at the courthouse on the next evening. I have been unable to find the names of the citizens who signed this call as they do not seem to have been published in the daily papers. But they made the beginning of one of the most successful efforts which Jacksonville has ever made. I trust that in the future when such a group of citizens call us to work for the public good their efforts will meet the same harmonious response which has followed this one. One thing is certain they did not represent a faction but only the best interest of our beautiful city.

February 15, 1917 at 7:30 p. m. a large and representative attendance of citizens was held in the circuit court room for the purpose of discussing ways and means for solving the water question. This was a real citizen meeting, ready and determined to solve the problem. It was a real get-together meeting, and while all kinds of opinions were expressed one could feel in the atmosphere a determination to give up personal views and There was frank and free discussion of all the phases of the water question and at its conclusion I had the privilege and the very great pleasure of offering the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. The resolutions read:

"Whereas, Jacksonville's water supply is totally inadequate for our needs, and whereas we have made a failure of securing adequate supply, and whereas we are in need of expert advice on this question, therefore be it Resolved, That we request our mayor and commissioners to invite the Illinois State Water Survey, the Illinois State Geological Survey, and the Illinois State Board of Health to make a thorough survey of conditions and and recommended the South Fork of the Mauvasterre Creek as the best place for a dam pumping station and filtration plant.

One line is quoted from this report of Pearce and Greeley as follows: "In our opinion no surface water supply at Jacksonville is safe for public consumption without filtration." This has been the view held by the joint committee from the beginning. They had determined in their own minds that Jacksonville should finally have a supply of water which would be safe for any one to drink.

On February 22, 1918, the state department represented by the directors of health; water survey and geological survey approved the recommendation of Pearce and Greeley for the south forks of the Mauvasterre.

Following the report of Pearce and Greeley and the approval of the state departments, the joint water committee immediately approved the project, and a citizen meeting was called at which every citizen was given an opportunity to voice his approval or dissent. At this meeting the recommendations were unanimously adopted by the citizens.

On April 15, 1918 Pearce and Greeley submitted a complete report in great detail. The plans adopted provided for a 22 foot dam with concrete spillway to hold 14 feet of water and a filtration plant of 1,500,000 gallons of water daily in the drier years, with headworks, pump house and other accessories. Pending the letting of the necessary contract for construction an election was held on June 18th, 1918 at which the citizens voted seventy thousand and ($70,000) dollars in bonds for water works construction.

One thing which had delayed the project somewhat was acquiring the site upon which the dam was to be constructed. This land consisting of 60 acres belonged to the state of Illinois for the use of the Jacksonville State hospital and it was necessary to get a state legislature to pass a special bill turning this land over to the city for this purpose. On March 14, 1919 Governor Lowder signed the bill transferring the sixty (60) acres of land from the state of Illinois to the city of Jacksonville so that the dam could be built on this most desirable site.

For some time the special finance committee of the joint water committee had been securing options on the necessary land, estimated at 350 acres. But the question had not been settled as to how this land would be paid for. In February 25, 1919 a meeting of interested citizens was called by the joint water committee to consider this important question. After full and free discussion it was decided to ask the citizens for voluntary subscriptions, to an issue of water certificates bearing interest at 6 per cent and secured by trust deed or mortgage. Here we had another evidence of the determined interest of the citizens. In one week one hundred and thirty thousand ($130,000) dollars was subscribed for the purchase of the land.

Not once during the necessary steps for carrying forward this project did the citizens hesitate to come forward and do their full duty. No citizens committee was ever more generously supported in a public work than was this committee in the water site project. On March 4, 1919, the subscribers to the water certificates met at the court house and appointed the joint water committee to purchase the land required and to transact all necessary business connected therewith. J. W. Walton was elected secretary and trustee to act for the joint water committee in the purchase of 350 acres of land, estimated to be necessary to take care of the project. John A. Tollatti was elected attorney for the committee.

Surveys showed that certain roads would be overflowed by the backing up of water after the dam was built. Consequently the committee entered into a contract with the county commissioners by which they took over all necessary road work, new bridges and other work necessary. The co-operation of the county commissioners was most hearty and satisfactory.

On February 17th, 1920 a meeting of the citizens was held at the court house to which the joint water committee thru Dr. J. R. Harker made a complete report of all transactions of the committee. They also made suggestions as to the transfer of the entire plant to the city. The report and suggestions were approved by the citizens. The land secured totalled 417 acres.

Owing to the great increase in prices of material and labor brought about by the war it was necessary for your joint committee to materially modify the original plans to bring the cost within the available means of the city. The filtration plant had to be omitted from the original contract which was let to John T. Walbridge of Chicago in April 1919. Ground for this project 417 acres and spillway was broken May 7, 1919.

This work was completed Nov. 1st, 1919 and gave our city for the first time an abundant and dependable supply of water, but still the quality of the water was bad. It contained mud in varying quantities so that much the time it was unfit for bathing and it was always unsafe for cooking and drinking. However the joint committee which after May 1st, 1919, was composed of the Citizens water committee and Mayor Crabtree and the new city council never lost sight of the necessity of building the filtration plant and in the meantime the city decided in (Fall of 1919) to move its entire power and light plant to the water works site. This combination would give greater efficiency as well as economy of operation. Two additional bond issues were necessary in order to carry out these plans and both were generously voted by the citizens.

All the land necessary having finally been purchased on March 15, 1920, a deed of transfer to the city and mortgage were filed and "City of Jacksonville Reserve Bonds" were issued to take up the water certificates.

The contract for the filtration plant was let to John T. Walbridge on March 30th, 1920, and after many delays on account of difficulties in securing materials was not completed and put in operation until April 25th, 1921. Considerable delay was caused by difficulties arising in connection with securing a switch for delivering coal to the Light and Power Plant, but finally this was accomplished.

The following is a summary of the cost of the whole project as given to the writer by H. L. Caldwell of the Caldwell Engineering Co:

Dam and spillway .....	$ 67000
Land .....	130000
Filtration plant .....	80000
Power plant .....	60000
Stack .....	6000
Switch .....	5000
Incidental expenses of moving pump machinery, etc. ....	12000
Original survey and investigations .....	6000
Total .....	$366000

In a brief and general way without going too far into detail this is the story of our water supply as now owned and controlled by the citizens of Jacksonville. I doubt whether there is a citizen who is not delighted that after years of discussion, failure and effort we have finally succeeded in this important work.

It is a monument to the concerted action of our citizens and stands here today as an object lesson. It represents the concerted get-together spirit of our city and we all trust that this same spirit will be applied to other necessary enterprises. Let each one of us as we gather here on this national Independence day to dedicate the completed enterprise to our citizens also dedicate himself to be a helper and a booster for every future effort for the benefit of historic and classic Jacksonville.

MRS. G. W. BROWN LAID TO REST SUNDAY

Funeral Services Held for Well Known Jacksonville Woman—Interment Made at Diamond Grove.

A prayer was offered by Dr. R. O. Post, fine in its spiritual feeling and the house service closed when Mrs. Gregory sang "Victoria." From the residence the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery and Mrs. Brown was laid to rest in a grave beautified with flowers. The committal service was said by Rev. George E. Stickney.

The flowers were cared for by Misses Georgia and Marion Fairbanks, Miss Effie Epler and Mrs. Charles H. Hall. The bearers were Messrs. M. O. Matthews, S. A. Fairbank, Charles H. Smith, Charles H. Hall, Felix E. Farrel and Arthur Fairbank.

In his address, spoken from a full heart, Dr. Hayden said: The picture of the ideal Hebrew woman—in so many items of it so fitting to the life of Mrs. Brown, made the scripture selection quite inevitable with its suggestions of care and thrift and fidelity and serene order and harmony and unflinching thoughtfulness, with the law of kindness on her tongue and her husband praising her at home and her works, raising also in the gates of the temple and the city.

We miss, however, in the scriptures certain details our latter day woman would display. The Hebrew housewife of even the highest type would, from the oriental circumstances and that age be without any intellectual outlook or mentally broadened developments.

These the best type of women in our modern free society cannot fail to show. To the finest skill and aptitudes for home-making and fidelity to its details—something is super-added—that gives grace and light, contentment and strength to domestic life, viz: A lively curiosity and eager interest in the larger life and thinking of the world, its national and social movements, its literature, its fiction, history, poetry, its elevating and sweetening work in art. Happy the housewife and fortunate the husband and children where the instinctive urge to know and keep alive the interest in an enlarging and enriching world lifts the household above the sordid pull of drudgery and the physical comfort, current of existence!

But it would have been strange if the intellectual stimulation had been confined to fields of this world's affairs. Beyond all local and patriotic interests, beyond even Europe's rich contributions to her longings for knowledge, her religious inheritances and training compelled her to be curious—peculiarly so for a healthy-minded, unselfish, busy woman, curious about the future life. Where and what it was to be like—was a question we are to understand—often on her tongue—often after with most of us.

There is a conception of the future technically called "corporeality immortality," meaning a persistence after death, not of the individual person, but a persistence of the influence left behind to work continuously on its other lives after the individual is shuffled out—

"To live again in minds made better by their presence." After one is gone; to be to other souls the cup of strength in some great agony after our death;—to continue being "the sweet influence of a good diffused."

It is not a common thing in our especially impermanent portion of a much changing world—to find a family in which five generations have succeeded one another still residing in the same community. Beginning on the Diamond Grove farm the middle of last century, then moving to Joy Prairie, only to concentrate finally in this town we follow these five generations—in which Mrs. Brown stood midway—seeing her grandparents and her parents pass honored to their rest—and her grandchild grow to young womanhood.

It is possible as we've thus seen, for parents to live on in their children—perpetuating virtues and inherited character. They do live on in their descendants—and as long as one drop of blood flows in the life of one of the race the parents do not cease to live—and when blood is pure and the strain of character is sweet and sound and strong—it must be a ground of solid consolation and just pride. And with memories carried forward in the minds of children—the graces and virtues, of heroism and patience, of honors and generosity, of fidelity and sacrifices—all these working in the consciousness of descendants—a perpetuation of life is assured in the lives of those so inspired.

That this is the fullness of our immortality—we would not claim—nor can it fully satisfy one who had so essentially a religious inheritance as Mrs. Brown. Faith in our personal persistence after this life—finally banks itself only on one's faith in God—immortal being. But if our faith has like Columbus gone out over a sea of uncertainties and questions—and has come home from its intellectual adventure with the assurance born of experience having found a real world—and settled to it finally—that God is, was and ever shall be—and he is mine and I am His forever—then curiosity will wait what the future may be! May he like!

Where it is! What I shall find in it! These things we leave in the lap of God. But, that it is! I am to be a part of it—to share it—with grandparents, parents, husband, son—even as they share in God—that is the solid assurance of my soul "until the day dawns and the shadows flee away."

So we may believe she has been justified in moving confidently forward to it out of her pain and all uncertainties and to God be the praise!

BIG CELEBRATION HELD AT VIRGINIA

Senator Mills, Chairman of Day H. H. Bancroft Made Address Baby Show of Interest to All.

Virginia, July 4.—Independence day was celebrated here with a great program and the attendance was the largest in Fourth of July history. In the afternoon the address was made by Horace H. Bancroft of Jacksonville. Mr. Bancroft had "Our Country" for his theme and used it as a basis for an address replete with lofty patriotic sentiment. The speaker found reason for America's greatness in the principles of her rugged ancestry and declared that the ideals of the forefathers must be followed if growth and greatness are to continue.

Senator Epler Mills was the chairman of the day. The general program included a wild west show, automobile parade, baseball game and athletic sports. The Springfield watch factory band furnished music throughout the day. One of the big features was the baby show, with scores of entries. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Girls—First, Lorraine Stanbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burch Stanbaugh; second, Helen Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Turner.

Boys—First, George Petefish, son of Mayor and Mrs. Glenn Petefish; second, George Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Decker.

The general committee included Mayor Petefish, Senator Mills, Messrs. Salzenstein, Widmayer and Bristow.

LOTS OF TRAINED ANIMAL DISPLAYS WITH JOHN ROBINSON'S BIG CIRCUS

In one of the trained animal displays with the John Robinson circus, which exhibits in Jacksonville, Tuesday, July 12, baby elephants, tiny ponies and big dogs give, it is said, a remarkable illustration of what can be accomplished by skill and persistence in training dumb animals. These three dissimilar animal groups go through their clever stunts with the precision of soldiers on parade, and with an eagerness that suggests that they actually enjoy their work.

This, however, is only one of many clever trained animal displays announced for the John Robinson circus. There are three herds of wonderful performing elephants; there are funny little burros that buck under the weight of a piper just like genuine wild ones bucking bronchos; there are ponies that go spinning on a whirling table like equine tops; there are monkeys that ride dogs, dogs that ride ponies and baboons that drive tiny Roman chariots drawn by swiftly speeding canines and dogs that balance on their hind legs on swiftly swaying swings, and other exhibitions of trained animal intelligence to delight the youngsters and to interest the grownups.

There are also thrills galore. There are acrobats who go flying across the great arena; gymnasts who perform every known feat of acrobaticism; bareback equestriennes, whirlwind riders, an entire congress of aerial butterfly dancers, and, not least, fifty crowns, to slip an occasional bit of burlesque and jollity into the varied program. There are times, it is announced, when the three rings, the two stages and the broad esplanade are filled with these merry followers of Momus, so dear to the hearts of childhood.

Circus day will be inaugurated with a new and novel two mile street parade which is scheduled to leave the exhibition grounds about 10:00 a. m.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE BILL AT GRAND THIS WEEK

Patrons of the Grand were well pleased with the vaudeville program presented at the theatre yesterday, matinee and night. The bill is headed by Decourcy and Jackson, presenting a rube comedy. Both are exceptionally good singers. Next follows Hackett and Beach, splendid comedy entertainers featuring "The Line Busy."

Western and Hopkins presenting a sketch burlesquing the "Three Mile Limit," made a big hit. The last act is Chas. Fulton, an expert bag puncher. Pictures are also shown in connection with this program.

THE WORLD GROWS BETTER WITH YEARS

Dr. Thomas Smith Decries Present Day Tendencies But Facts Show Marvelous Advances Made in Thought and Ways of Living—The "Light of the Century."

At Westminster church Sunday morning Dr. Thomas Smith preached a sermon in which he talked freely about the laxness of present day morals in some particulars but at the same time gave facts to prove that marvelous advances in ideals and life have been made in past years in both public and private life. He attributed present tendencies to the spirit and unrest born of the war and said that it is history that such days follow war times.

Making special reference to the Jersey City fight the minister said that the world will never be rendered more manly by such exhibitions and that there is the widest possible difference between boxing as a manly sport and a fight to a finish for fame and money.

Dr. Smith presented an array of facts from the history of the years that breathed a fine and inspiring optimism. He said in part:

Ecclesiastes VII-10: Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this.

Prof Murray (Oxford), "One of the oldest documents known to men—a cuneiform fragment from the most ancient stratum of the ruins of Babylon—begins with these words, 'Alas! Alas! Times are not what they were!' The mood of pessimism that sees only the degeneracy of the times is characteristic of some people of every age. It looks back to the bright spots of a former era and fails to see the black spots of that same era. It recalls Lincoln and Clay and Washington and Franklin and sighs for great leaders that are no more.

This mood of the doubting heart sometimes even questions whether our increased material comforts have really advanced the welfare of the average man.

Early Difficulties
Young Daniel Webster had to pluck his pens from the wings of his mother's goose. He made his ink from the soot saved from his mother's kettles. How should we like to go back and live in 1812 when Madison was elected president in November and Kentucky did not hear about it until February, 1913?

We have more bread and better bread because we have better farm machinery and farming methods and more scientific milling processes than ever before in the world's history. It is said that an ordinary day laborer today enjoys as many comforts as sixty slaves could provide with incessant labor. How interesting to compare the mud floored hut and the straw pallets of the day laborer of three centuries ago with his carpets and woven wire mattress today.

And education has reached wider and deeper than our forefathers could have dreamed. It has turned the wild crabbie into the wine-sop and the pippin. Has transformed the sour wild grape into the Concord and the Catawba. Science has improved the horses and the cows and the hogs marvelously and is now promising us better babies also.

In 1670 Gov. Berkeley of Colony of Virginia said, "I thank God there are no free schools, nor printing, and I hope we shall not have them these hundred years; for learning has brought disobedience and heresy and sects into the world and printing has divulged them. God keep us from both."

Some Pertinent Facts
Oldest public schools in this country are only about 100 years old. In Philadelphia (1823) "many children taken out of schools because of high wages in factories which vary from 50 cents to $1.25 a week. Something should be done to rid the streets of little children beggars."

And now Mr. Pessimist answers. With all our advancement in wealth and comforts and education—the morals of the 20th century are not one inch higher than those of the 16th.

We admit the social evil is bad enough in our cities—thousands of women under cover selling soul and body because we will be brutes rather than men. But have any of us ever seen what was seen in the good old wacker city of Philadelphia in 1801—viz, white slaves led through the streets with iron chains around their necks and with the initial of their masters branded upon their brows? We must admit that there is today a looseness in the behavior of boys and girls from many respectable families that is amazing. It shows a reckless defiance of moral peril and must be due to the break down of parental training often where we least expect it.

All the churches now work to relieve suffering—sanitation, hospitals, Red Cross—never was there a day when, apart from war, there has been so much light and tenderness and high hope in the general heart of man wherever the gospel has been carried.

What then about thousands of Christians spending scores of thousands of dollars to see two highly trained men pound one another into insensibility? Sixty-one years have passed since Tom Sayers and Jack Heenan at Farnborough, England fought for two hours and 20 minutes with bare fists. Public opinion was aroused and prize fighting with bare fists became since that day illegal in England.

Boxing Rules Adopted
In 1866 then came into use the Marquis of Queensbury rules which saved the sport of boxing from utter brutality. While the many art of self-defense may possibly be a clean game—practised with gloves which save it from brutality, professional prize fighting is not built up on the manly art. It appeals not so much to the manly sense as to the passion for exciting contests. In this sport the element of brutality is a large factor. It must be a fight to a finish. There must be the cunning of the tiger and the endurance of the bull. The longer the pounding continues, the finer the sport and the greater the enjoyment of the crowd. For men to contend on the battlefield for a great issue—for groups to struggle in butchery for the cause of freedom or the death of militarism—that is brutality transfigured, battle glorified. We can honor such fighters. We see the high end—and the disinterested courage, and self-sacrifice.

But for two men to fight like wild boars simply for fame, for fortune and for the delectation of that remnant of the savage which is in so many of us—that is but small contribution to the manly art. It is an encouragement to the inhuman and bloodthirsty instincts of thousands of American boys, who will be pummeling one another on side alleys and back lots for weeks to come.

In France we had in almost every camp boxing bouts under the auspices of Y. M. C. A. athletic leaders. Oftentimes during week nights I had to slip my lectur or Gospel talk before some game or contest and on the very same platform. I generally had large crowds to listen. But these glove contests were not always finished in a lady-like or loving spirit. They were sometimes poor preparation for sermons on brotherly love. At one time I preached to 200 men on Sunday morning with one officer attending. In the evening there were 600 men packed into the same room to witness four advertised bouts and there were forty or more officers from lieutenants to colonels feasting their souls on that pummeling. In one or two of the bouts one of the boxers lost his temper and the spectacle was not edifying. On the whole the "Y" was justified in putting on this sport. But whatever may have been necessary recreation to the overseas army, it does not for the civilian that the same should be adopted as normal and wholesome for peaceful America. It was an abnormal existence.

Laws Against ugliness
Public sentiment is against professional pugilism. The laws in most of the states prove this. Even the revival of animalism which the war brought about in so many of our young men can not long justify and sustain so base a sport. The American colonies were never elevated by the popular cock-fights. Spain has never been elevated one inch by her bull fights. And the mainland of America will never be purified or rendered more manly by such exhibitions as that of yesterday at Jersey City. There lies the whole diameter of the moral world between boxing as a manly sport and the fight to a finish between two professional champions who are ready to be pounded insensibly for fame and money.

At the age of eighty Tennyson bore testimony to the victory of his spirit over his animal nature. So shall it be for American man.

Our mind and spirit shall never be content to submit to and enslave the baser instincts. "If my body come from brutes, the somewhat finer than their own, I am heir, and this my kingdom. Shall the royal voice be mute? No, but if the rebel subjects seek to drag me from my throne, Hold the sceptre, Human soul, and rule thy province of the Brute."

Two priceless truths are steadily conquering the world—the sacredness of the human body and the sacredness of human life. "Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this." The value of a man steadily increases. The cause of peace secretly and irresistibly moves on. "The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened."

IS VICTIM OF
CUTTING AFFRAY
Harry Large was the victim of a cutting affray Monday afternoon. He was cut about the head and chest and was attended by Dr. Bowe.

Inquiry was made at the police station Monday evening but the night desk sergeant knew nothing definite about the affair except that it had occurred.

The Journal reporter was unable to get in touch with the chief or members of the day force and evidently no record was made of the affair, though it was said that the police had a report on the matter.

No information could be obtained as to who had cut Large. It is said that his injuries are not serious.

AT MICHIGAN CAMP

E. E. Crabtree has returned from Omema after a stay of ten days. The temperature there, like that of other northern resorts, is almost as high as here in Jacksonville. Before returning Mr. Crabtree accompanied his son Farrell to Camp Mich. This is a boys' camp which has been in operation for a period of years, with fifty or more boys in attendance. A master is in charge of each group of ten boys and the athletic outdoor life is of a kind the boys thoroughly enjoy. In addition to sports there is a daily routine with an educational trend.

DAUGHTER OF SCOTT COUNTY FARMER IS MURDERED SUNDAY

Is Strangled to Death and Body Placed in Water-Trough

People of Scott county were shocked and grief stricken by the murder of Beatrice Kincaid, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kincaid, who reside on a farm four miles northwest of Winchester. Edward Mundy, a farm worker, is under arrest charged with the murder. The child was choked to death and then her body was placed in a water trough.

It was one of the most brutal murders in the history of the county and one of the most inexplicable. James Kincaid, the father, is one of the prominent farmers of Scott county and Mundy has been in his employ.

Sunday night the members of the Kincaid family were seated on the front porch of the farm home. About 8 o'clock the child left the porch and walked out into the yard. Nothing was thought of the incident at the time, but a half hour later when she had not reappeared a search was instituted. Just about 9 o'clock members of the family found the child in a water trough in the barnyard.

Drowning First Theory
The theory of drowning was at first accepted but Dr. E. C. Brengle who had been summoned, found upon examination that there was no water in the child's lungs. There was comparatively little water in the trough where the body lay. The impress of fingers upon the throat gave positive proof that she had been strangled. Physicians are of the opinion that the child had not been attacked and the motive for the ghastly crime is lacking.

It was recommended that soon after the child left the porch that Mundy who had been seated with the family, also disappeared. Soon after the child's body was found the members of the searching party discovered Mundy not far away. His clothes were somewhat disheveled and it is said that there were bloodstains. Mundy stoutly denied knowledge of the crime and said that he had been "fighting" with hogs as an explanation for the condition of his clothing. He maintained that the last time he saw the child that she was seated on the porch.

Sheriff Haskell and Coroner Webster are working on the case and every possible detail will be learned.

JACKSONVILLE IS VISITED BY STORM

Terrific Wind Storm Hits City About 4:30 o'clock Monday Afternoon—Much Damage Done to Trees and Wires.

A windstorm of short but destructive duration struck Jacksonville about 4:30 Monday afternoon, interfering with a number of Fourth of July celebrations which were then in progress.

Wires were blown down in many parts of the city, impairing telephone service during the evening. Nearly every street was strewn with broken limbs from trees. On the corner of South Main street and Greenwood avenue, a large tree was blown to the ground. Another tree, located near the end of South Clay avenue was blown down across the street, impeding all traffic.

Other fallen trees reported were one in front of the residence of Matt-Miller on South Koscusko street, one near the Trinity parsonage, and another at the Catholic parsonage.

Storm Stops Everything
Dust and wind stopped the game at the baseball park south of town during the sixth inning. The Roberts Bros. team of Springfield won over the locals by a score of 3-1.

Activities at the Jacksonville State hospital were halted at the same time. Mrs. Charles Cully of South Prairie street was injured by a falling limb while leaving the entertainment there.

At Mauvalsterre lake the storm came during the baseball game between the Jacksonville business men and the United Commercial travellers. The business men had the big end of the score when the game was stopped.

The parachute leap from the airplane was, of course, abandoned on account of the wind. In the great rush of people from the vicinity of the new lake, many had difficulty in crossing the dam, and were almost blown off their feet. The dust was such that it darkened the whole sky and enabled people, for several minutes, to see only a few yards ahead.

A Dodge touring car belonging to the Rev. Walter E. Spoonits was blown from the hill into the lake where it was covered by about ten feet of water. The car was rescued later in the evening and was towed to the Babb and Gibbs garage. The top and one running board were broken and both license numbers were gone. Mr. Spoonits wishes to thank all those who helped to get the car from the lake and back to town.

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Jacksonville woman who is having backache, dizzy and nervous spells, dizziness, headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Jacksonville woman's experience:

Mrs. R. E. McFarland, 633 N. Main St., says: "I had a dull pain through my back that made me feel pretty miserable all over. If I would stoop over I would have a sharp catch take me in the small of my back that would make it rather hard for me to get straightened up again. I also found that my kidneys acted too freely at times and I knew they were disordered. I had dizzy spells when everything would be in a blur and I would have to sit down to let the spell pass. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Coover's Drug Store and it was not long before they rid me of the trouble. My cure has been a lasting one. I am glad to recommend a remedy that has proved as good as Doan's. I am sure Doan's would help others troubled as I was, if given a trial."

The match was played under a broiling sun which apparently affected Soudin's game. The victory returns to Hayes the cup he won in 1911, at Omaha, in the second annual clay court tournament. Roberts, the 1920 winner did not compete in the tournament this year. In the doubles final, Hayes and Clifton B. Hurd of Pasadena, Cal., succeeded Roberts and Vincent Richards of New York as the champions. Hayes and Hurd defeated John and Ralph H. Purdick of Indianapolis in three sets, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2. As in the singles, the 1920 champions did not defend their title in this tournament.

ROBERTS TAKE TWO GAMES FROM INDEES

Indies Unable to Hit When Hits Meant — Runs — Rain Stops Monday's Game in Sixth Inning.

Roberts Brothers of Springfield took two games from the Indies Sunday and Monday. The Sunday game was good for five innings with the locals on the long end of the score. In the sixth Hamm weakened and with some poor work in the field, the visitors made three runs which was enough but they made two more for good measure.

The game Monday started off like it might be a victory for the locals as they got a run in the opening frame. However, the visitors got two in the second and another in the fifth. The game was stopped in the sixth when one man was out for the locals by a storm. It looked the way the Indies were finding the ball that they might finally win a game but even the weather man was against them.

The Indies' lone run was made on Benny's single, Grady's wild throw Wheeler's sacrifice and Cox's single.

Roberts Brothers made two in the second on Lascodie's double, Rubie's wild throw, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice. Bases on balls to Chestnut and Wilkin a fielder's choice and Ford's safety gave them the last one in the fifth.

Sunday's Game.

Sunday's game should have been ours with any kind of breaks. Hamm started it and was going like a big leaguer. However he was slated to pitch over in Pike county the fourth and asked Manager Smith to let him retire.

Before he retired, however, in the sixth Roberts Brothers had made three hits for a total of three runs and put the game on ice as the Indies were unable to hit Dove effectively.

Up to that time the score was 1 to 0 in favor of the locals and with the pitchers working as they were it looked as though that would be the score at the end. The visitors added two more, for good measure making the final score 5 to 1.

There was some excellent fielding during the afternoon. Wilkin made a beautiful catch of a drive from Denney's bat in the first and Christopher made a fine catch of Wilkin's fly in the first. Cox grabbed a difficult foul fly off a bat of Grady in the third while Hap DeFrates made a good catch of a line drive off of Teaters in the seventh with a man on second.

How the Runs Were Made.

Roberts Brothers got their first runs in the sixth. Then a fielder's choice, a stolen base, singles by Dove and Ford with Hackett's scratch double scored three runs.

Wilkin's single and stolen base followed by Lascodie's single in the eighth brought over another. The last came in the ninth on a wild throw by Rubie and W. DeFrates double.

INDEPENDENCE DAY AT STATE HOSPITAL

Was Observed in Fitting Manner
—Day Filled With Entertainment—Address by Rev. M. L. Pontius—Rain Spoils the Picnic Dinner—Fireworks at Night.

The grounds at Jacksonville State Hospital presented an animated appearance yesterday with the great number belonging to the institution augmented by a large number of visitors from the city and country. Ample preparations had been made for events of the day and all present gave themselves up to the pleasures of the occasion.

The band discoursed fine music at intervals during the day and added many laurels to their already excellent reputation for first class artists. There were refreshment stands and many kinds of side entertainments such as knock the babies down, three shots at the darky, ring the duck, fortune telling, and others.

In addition there was a booth displaying work done by patients who are taught in classes and the display was large and highly creditable. There were fine rocking chairs of rattan, rugs, many kinds of fancy and bead work, a great assortment of wooden toys, baskets, hand painted pictures and many other articles both curious and useful. None are made for sale but are used for adornments in the wards.

Clarence Richardson was general director and Miss Nelle Self had charge of the program which was brim full of good things.

The institution orchestra did fine work for the vaudeville and won many compliments for their work. The members are: Piano, Warren Henson; 1st violin, Howard Hill; 2nd violin, Henry Sibbing; cornet, Jos. Horkey; trombone, Joe Liston; clarinet, W. G. Haven; drums, Harry Maurath; saxophone, Clarence Richardson.

Morning Program
The entertainment began in the morning at 9:30 with the following program:

Field day exercises. Dancing. 50 yard dash (female patients). 100 yard dash (male patients). Sack race (female patients). Tumble-saw race (male patients). Forward and backward race (female patients). Standing broad jump (male patients). Peanut race (female patients). Barrel race (male patients). Potato race (female patients). Tug of war, Annex and Main (male patients). Tug of war annex and main (female patients). 50 yard dash (female patients). 100 yard dash (male employees). One legged race (female patients). wheelbarrow race (male patients).

10 A. M.—Ball game (soldiers and tailor shop men). 1 P. M., Contests on platform—Cracker eating contest (male patients). Doughnut eating contest (female patients). Pie eating contest (both male and female patients). watermelon contest (male patients). Flour contest (male patients). Sawing contest (female patients). Nail driving contest (female patients).

Afternoon
In the afternoon the comic parade made a lot of fun. It was announced as follows:

This parade if followed would take you through the side shows where you will see the "Fat Lady," "Largest Snake in the World," "Smallest Midget in the World," "The Tallest Man in Existence," "A Trip Through the Old Plantation," the "House Upside Down," and "The Home Laundry." You can also stop and have your fortune told. The Monkey Band will head this procession and will play all the popular pieces. Don't miss this trip.

At 3 o'clock came a number much appreciated by all. It was an address by that ever popular speaker, Rev. M. L. Pontius. His theme was suited to the day and among other things he said:

This is a land for true patriots and it has no room for any others. There are in this land far too many Communists and Bolsheviks, fully as evil as any who are to be found in Russia; men who would willingly tear down the flag and destroy the government. They should all be deported for there is no room for them here.

Communism will never solve any problem. It only thrives where there is one master mind who rules with a rod of iron. Still I do not despair, for in the words of the grand "Battle Hymn of the Republic":

"Mine eyes have seen the coming of the glory of the Lord." The address was heard with great satisfaction and then came the vaudeville.

1. Dorothy Roberts, singing "I'm Nobody's Baby."
2. Daniel Powell on tight wire.
3. Dresselman: A few jokes, singing.
4. "Love Boat," from Ziegfeld Follies, by chorus.
5. "The Irish Jubilee," James Allen.
6. "Pantomime, 'Star Spangled Banner,' assisted by Dorothy

"Mine eyes have seen the coming of the glory of the Lord." The address was heard with great satisfaction and then came the vaudeville.

Songs and orchestration furnished by the publishers. "You Can Have My Seat in This Orchestra" (I don't want it no more.) Lyrics and music by Thos. J. Hough. Sung by the composers.

At the end of the vaudeville came the disappointment of the day as a hard storm suddenly came up scattering every one. The patients were all gotten in safely and the only trouble heard of was a limb falling from a tree which bruised two ladies but not seriously.

Fireworks Display

One of the greatest throngs ever assembled on the grounds at Jacksonville state hospital was there Monday night for the fireworks and other Fourth of July features. There were hundreds upon hundreds of cars parked along the driveway within the grounds.

In addition there were almost as many cars on South Main street and Morton avenue. There were of course also a great many people who reached the grounds on the street cars and altogether it was a great throng. The hospital management had arranged an evening program which was well worth while and the assembled people thoroughly enjoyed it.

Large men, tall men, or regular size men can secure perfect fitting underwear of FRANK BYRNS Hat Store.

TYPOS TO MEET IN JACKSONVILLE

Will Hold State Convention Here July 10, 11 and 12 — President McPhelan of the International Typographical Union Expected.

The sixth annual convention of the Illinois Typographical Union will be held in this city July 10, 11 and 12. Delegates will be present from all parts of the state and according to call sent out by the state officers an interesting session is anticipated.

Among other things the call urges all locals to send full quotas of delegates as questions of vital importance will come up. In order to receive the benefit of the discussion of these questions it is desired and hoped that all locals will send all the delegates they are entitled to.

The sessions of the organization will be held in Labor Temple on South Main street. Delegates to the convention from the Jacksonville local are: Carl E. Newport, Charles E. Blair and Abe L. Wood.

Mr. Wood is also a member of the board of trustees of the state organization and has for many years been prominently identified with union affairs.

The local members of the union have made plans to give the visitors royal entertainment. They will be shown about the city and in various ways made to know that Jacksonville is glad of the opportunity to entertain them.

One thing these visiting union men will not doubt be interested in is the local Labor Temple. Few cities have a building of their own. The history of the building of the local temple will be an interesting story to the visitors and its existence shows the value of organization and cooperation.

The officers of the state organization are:

President — John V. Ross, Champaign.
Vice-President — J. E. Donaldson, Chicago.
Vice-President — J. W. Andrews, Springfield.

Secretary-Treasurer — H. C. Maddox, Alton.

Trustees — C. H. Curtis, Aurora; Abe L. Wood, Jacksonville; Edward Koch, Belleville.

HISTORY OF FLAG TOLD IN ADDRESS

J. H. Dial in Patriotic Talk at Baptist Sunday School.

At Sunday school at the First Baptist church Sunday morning J. H. Dial made an interesting and eloquent address on "The Flag." Mr. Dial gave the history of standards and ensigns from the days of the Children of Israel and then told of the birth of the American flag. He traced the history from the days of Betty Ross down to the present, giving many significant facts and telling the rules which should be observed with reference to the national emblem.

The speaker said that the flag of the United States should have reverence second only to that given to the Almighty. Mr. Dial closed with the following eloquent tribute to the flag:

To The Flag
"Old Glory, we know you and love you; you had your birth in Philadelphia; your stripes of red and white and the stars in your field of blue were first kissed by Pennsylvania's sunlight; you were the first to reach the top of the tower from whence came the sounds of the Old Liberty Bell pealing forth the lullaby of independence to a new born Republic; you led the vanguard of the American Armies at Saratoga, and from Valley Forge to Yorktown; you first blushed in protest against the crime of slavery in your own native Keystone State of Pennsylvania; you led our conquering armies from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico, in the Mexican War, without a single defeat. You were trailed in the dust and torn by shot and shell at Fort Sumter, but you rose again to feel the loyal grasp of Lincoln and Grant and Logan and Garfield, and McKinley; you triumphantly waved in the summer sunlight at Appomattox as the proud emblem of a re-united nation, never more to be dismembered; your shimmering folds flaunted out freedom to four millions of black men and women, and whispered through the breeze an undying inspiration to the millions who loved the country and the cause for which you stood. Across the sea, in the World's war, your staff was firmly planted on the parapets of the trenches, within hearing distance of the moans of the wounded and the groans of the dying, never to be taken down until the merciful God of Nations had decreed that the price of universal brotherhood and of international Democracy had been paid; our boys—our own dear American boys bore you victoriously back home in their arms; and may we who stayed at home, together with all who love liberty and equality and the sheltering protection which you have always given, and together with the millions yet unborn, fully appreciate, that, notwithstanding the tremendous price you cost, you are a fitting emblem for the greatest and proudest nation upon which God's sun ever shone."
